Re-Rated Pensioners Standing Determinedly by Their Guns.

POSTMASTER LARKIN SOLID AS YET

*SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 News, a Catholic organ published in this city, contains in its issue of this week a bitter attack on the management of the moval because a man was a Catholic or be-cause a man was a Democrat. My aim has been to retain all employes who are fully qualified, and to appoint only men of that character in filling vacancies. I have refused to enter into any contract with newly organized denominational schools, or contract schools, as they are known, to distinguish them from the schools solely conducted by the Government, because I am in favor of the public school system.

"In educating the Indians to citizenship I see no reason why they should not be taught in the same sort of schools as the children of American citizens. I am, there-fore, opposed to the system which encouraged grants of money by the Government to private elementary schools of any character. The number of Indian schools conducted by the Government is 159. The contract schools number 71. I renewed the contracts with all the existing schools, but refused to make contracts with proposed new schools. Presbyterians, Methodists, Episcopalians, Baptists, as well as Roman Catholics, applied to me for such contracts, but I refused.

"It is true," continued Mr. Morgan,
"that the Catholic schools received a larger share of the appropriation than the scho of any other denomination. This is shown by the amount paid by the Government to South Dakota (Episcopal), $4,860; American Unitarian Association, $5,400; B. C. Hobbs (Friends), $13,363, including special appropriation of $12,000; Whitis School, Indiana (Friends), $10,020; Halstead, Kan-sas (Mennonites), $4,375; Mission School at Wittenberg, Wis. (Lutheran), $7,560; S. D. Hinman (Episcopal), $750; J. A. Gilifilan (Episcopal), $19,116; Society of Methodist Episcopal Church, $8,950; total, $505,994. "In the year 1886 the Catholics received $118,343 out of a total appropriation of $174,819; in 1887, $194,635 out of $309,774; in 1888, $221,169 out of $322,824; in 1889, $347,672 out of $476,190.

A GREATER INCREASE.

"The number of Catholic teachers in the Government schools," added the commissioner, "has increased recently in much greater proportion than those of any other denomination. But in all the changes which have been made—and none have been made recently—I have endeavored to act for the best interests of the service, and without reference to religious belief.

If more Catholies have been dismissed shart Protestants, it was probably due to the fact that there were more Catholies in the services It is not known activities. what is the proportion of Catholic and Protestant teachers that have been dropped from the rolls. I never made any inquire as to a teacher's religious faith, but Dr. Dorchester, in a recent letter, a copy of which I have, says that undoubtedly more Protest-ants than Catholics have been dropped."

put through, most of them being taken up and made special and the claim allowed in-side of 48 hours. The re-rated men assert that the reason for this was that it had appeared to be so much the business of the last ndministration to prevent the allowance of pensions, and such manifest injustice was rought to the attention of Commissioner Tanner, that gentleman was so indignant that he gave his approval at once to any method that would hasten the cases and right the wrong that had been done. The re-rated pensioners do not believe that anyone would dispute that all of the increases and arreary alleged.

He has not fully concluded to take this step, but as intimated in these dispatches last evening, this will probably be the present disposition of the case.

made a trade of a pair of horses. Subsequent developments indicate that the transaction will become famous in the horse annals of the county. Richardson, after agreeing with Magee as to the terms of the trade, took the latter's pair of horses away, and Magee was to have Richardson's pair. Richardson took his newly acquired horses to his farm in the country, and says he then discovered that they were not as sound as he had been led to believe. He then made overtures to return them to Magee, but the latter refused to receive them, and domanded the pair of steeds Richardson had agreed to exchange.

manded the pair of steeds Richardson had agreed to exchange.

This morning Magee found his own pair of horses hitched in front of his store on De Kalb street. Richardson says his attorney advised him to hitch them where Magee found them. Magee, however, wouldn't have it that way, and unhitched the horses and took them over on Swede street, where he attempted to hitch them in front of Richardson's store. Richardson objected and the horses were then turned loose in the street.

After a while the borough police captured the horses and impounded them. Richardson says the horses are not his and Magee says they do not belong to him. Borough Solicitor Jennings is, therefore, in a quandary as to the sale. Shall the horses be sold as the property of Tea Dealer Magee or as the property of Grocer Richardson, or as the property of Magee and Richardson jointly?
